IN THE CHURCHES

Grace Reformed Church, on 15th street northwest, of which the Rev. A. Thomas G. Apple is pastor, recently held a harvest festival. The church was decorated for the occasion with autumnal flowers and vines and fruits. The fruit, which was contributed by the members and Sunday school children, was sent to the Children's Home. Washington, and family have just returned from a three months' trip to Alaska. Dr. Childs went by way of the Yellowstone Park and came back through Colorado. While visiting the latter state he made an interesting collection of relics of the cliff dwellers in connection with a private exploring party.

The new Second Baptist Church is now in such a state of completeness that it will probably be ready for occupancy by Christmas. The stained glass windows in the front of the edifice are all in place, and work has commenced on the plastering.

At a special meeting of the Presbyterian Ministers' Association Rev. Drs. George O. Little and B. F. Bittinger were selected to represent that organization at the centennial celebration at the First Presbyterian Church, and both will speak on the subject of "Presbyterianism in the District of Coof "Presbyterianism in the District of Co-

Rev. Rumsey Smithson, D. D., presiding elder of this district of the M. E. Church South, has been ill for the past two or three weeks, but is now able to be out.

At the request of the Washington District Epworth League pastors of local Methodist Churches have promised to preach a special sermon on Sunday, the 10th of November, on the "Epworth League."

Rev. Howard Wilbur Ennis of the Western Presbyterian Church expects to have the free dispensary and Brotherhood of Andrew and Phillip reading room opened next week. In addition to arranging quarters in the church building for these organizations the woodwork of the church edifice has been newly pairted. A new carpet for the auditorium has been purchased.

The Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Atlance has decided upon the work it will do this winter. Rev. Charles Eckels is to be supported as a missionary in Slam, and the Farmwell school for mountain whites in North Carolina is to be assisted. The Junior Endeavorers of the alliance will raise mouey to place an Indian boy at the Tucson, Ariz., Indian school, and also to help the Japanese home in San Francisco.

The Metropolitan Baptist Church has decided upon some improvements to be made to the chapel adjoining the church. An entire new front and an addition coming out rearly to the building line is to be erected. This addition will be divided into two rooms, one for the Bible class and the other for the library.

At a recent meeting of the Home Missionary Society of the Metropolitan M. E. Church the following officers were elected to serve during the ensuing twelve months: President, Mrs. McDowell; recording secretary, Miss Gray; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Fred. E. Tasker; treasurer, Miss Marion Fred.

of the nature of the medicine given. In nine cases out of ten the patient grows worse, either with the first aliment or its complications. Other diseases show themselves. Medical science necessarily changes the treatment. Any person forty years of age knows how much the practice of medicine has charged within his recollection. It is progressive, but "art is long," so is science. It has taken years, and lectures, and books, and great patience to gain a footbold for the germ theory of disease. highly cultivated the Washington people are by strolling through a store devoted to the most intimate domestic demands of the community, and no better place to study the instructive lesson can be found in the national capital than the immense new structure of John W. Boteler & Son at No. 923 Pennsylvania avenue northwest. A Star reporter took such a pleasure upon himself yesterday, and placing himself under the guidance of Mr. Robert G. Gittings, enjoyed half an hour admiring beautiful and useful things. Immediately upon entering the broad doorway from the avenue his attention was struck by the marvelous display of cut glass gleaming and glistening in a hundred different forms. Each piece was an exquisite art object, the graceful figures, deeply chased, being as fine and delicate as the geometrical lathe work on a government security, while the Corinthian cutting was a treat to the eye. Caraffes, decanters, champagne sets, celery dishes and lovely pitchers and punch bowls yield with each pure, disease is impossible.

"A bad cold" is probably the simplest manifesta-tion of diseased blood-blood with a few microbes that the proper remedy would destroy and leave the patient in a normal state. But the proper remedy is not given. The practice of medicine is the majority of cases is a series of experiments. Once let it be known as a plain, selfevident truth that illness means germs in the blood let it be known that there is a simple, natural remedy, and life will be rid of its greatest burden.

while William Radam studied and experimented with his tursery, his own health falled. Rheuma-tism, catarrh, and at last that dread of ell the world, consumption, preyed upon him. His physi-chus gave him no hope of recovery. They had ex-perimented to no purpose.

The microbes that blighted his trees and shubs, his correcous roses and delicate lilles, were san-

Beyond the cut glass was a rare display of Austrian glass in pink, green and amber, covered with ricl gold etchings. Particularly striking were the loving cups and trumpet-shaped flower holders. On the first floor front also was an array of handsome onlyx tables in gilt bronze and gilt hammered iron supporting striking banquet and table lamps, and behind broad plate glass docrs was a sumptuous collection of heavy plated ware and cutlery.

Probably nothing was more artistic and striking in this section of the establishment that the large display of Delft from the famous Cook Pottery Company's Etruria works at Trenton, N. J. There were rare examples in jardinieres, vases and globes for plano lamps, and all were effective in design and treatment. All around were beautiful china ornaments from Bonn, Teplitz and other famous factories, while brica-brac of every description almost be wildered the eye.

Mr. Gittings was pleased when the reporter asked to see the table china. There was a vast variety exhibited. His discoveries have proven it. The antiseptic gas that slew the microbes in his own nursery also penetrated his lungs, and produced a "strange exhilaration." It was the note of reof life.

A few more experiments with the gas that gave life and health to his plants—and it is a brave man that takes his own smedicine—but this thing William Radam did. He impregnated water with the attiseptic gas. He tried some of the water on a piece of beef. He drank the water and ate the meat. He produced from his experiments a simple, effective, agreeable, inexpensive medicine called "Radam's Microbe Killer."
